You have the right to receive a “Good Faith Estimate”

Explaining how much your services will cost

Under the law, health care providers are required to give patients who don't have insurance or are not using their insurance an estimate of the cost for their services.

- You have the right to receive a Good Faith Estimate for the total expected cost of any non-emergent services.
- Make sure your health care provider gives you a Good Faith Estimate in writing at least 1 business day before your scheduled service. You can also ask your healthcare provider, or any other provider you choose, for a Good Faith Estimate BEFORE you schedule a service. THIS DOCUMENT IS NOT A BILL. Please retain the Good Faith Estimate for your records.
- If you receive a bill that is at least $400 more than your Good Faith Estimate, you have the right to file a Patient Provider Dispute Resolution
